Terms : Any work performed by the Animal Genetics Laboratory (AGL) will be governed by The University of Queensland's General Conditions for Supply of Consulting Services (Terms), a copy of which is found on UQ's website at www.uq.edu.au/legaloffice. By submitting this application you agree to be bound by these terms. These terms constitute the entire agreement between you and The University of Queensland with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersede and replace all prior or contemporaneous understanding or agreements, written or oral, regarding such subject matter. The University of Queensland may make changes to these Terms from time to time. When these changes are made, any new terms will be made available to you at the above URL. You understand and agree that if you use the Services after the date on which these Terms have changed, The University of Queensland will treat your use as acceptance of the updated terms.

Research conducted on this marker to date suggests that the test accuracy may vary between breeds but the numbers tested are still small. Across the seven breeds tested : Brahman, Santa Gertrudis, Droughtmaster, Limousin, Hereford, Brangus and Belmont Red Cross, the accuracy is approximately 90%. Further data is required to validate the test in these and other breeds. For more information on the likely accuracy of the test within breed, please read the fact sheets available at www.beefcrc.com.au
